As part of their learning about the story The Jolly Postman by Janet & Allan Ahlberg Year 1 learnt about how to write their own letters this week. First, they discovered the features of a letter, shown brilliantly by Sifatdeep's work, then they had the chance to write their own letters to a fairytale character pretending to be the postman, demonstrated expertly by Harmony.

Greeting
Dear Mr Green,

I am writing to complain about the carrots I bought from your shop last week. I came into your shop on Tuesday morning and bought two bags of fresh carrots. I peeled the carrots and hoped to cook them with chestnuts. When I tried to cook the carrots, I found they were rotten inside. This was disappointing, as I had nothing else to eat at home. Then, I was forced to go out to the shops again to buy other food for dinner.

I don't think it's fair that I had to pay for something which was rotten and I feel that you should give me a refund. Please contact me at the above address if you need me to come back into the shop to pick up the refund for the rotten carrots, otherwise please send me a cheque in the post.

Yours sincerely, _____

In Geography 1DK learnt about the key cities of each country in the United Kingdom before choosing one of those cities to focus on. Ranveer decided to show the main features of London by realistically and talentedly drawing the key buildings that you can see there.

1SP blew Miss Patel away with their art skills this week showing their creative aptitude by recreating Van Gogh's Sunflowers painting. You can see some incredibly examples from Jhia, Ravinder, Akaalroop and Sahibvir.

1SP also learnt about the letter genre in Literacy this week and wrote some amazing letters pretending to be the Jolly Postman. Miss Patel wanted to particularly share the marvellous letters written by Rehat and Biren

Dear Mummy Bear,

I am writing this letter to you to talk to you about myself. My name is the Jolly Postman and I deliver letters and parcels to everyone's house everyday. In my own time I like to play football and basketball with my friends and sometimes with my family. When I pass by your house I smell nice food being made, do you like to cook a lot? My favourite food is pancakes and fruit because they are tasty. I also like the colour blue because my uniform is blue. If I have time I water my plants so they can grow and be healthy and I clean my house.

I hope you see this and reply soon.

Yours sincerely,

The Jolly Postman

Year 2 learnt about the Victorians in History this week as the children journeyed back through time to discover what they could do if they went to a Victorian seaside. The children found out all about the different activities that would have been available to them and then showed their understanding by writing a postcard to Mrs Dhaliwal pretending that they had just visited a Victorian beach. Miss Ritchie was particularly impressed with Sahib's and Vyan's work because they showed a good command of historical understanding, incorporated relevant facts into their writing and used language appropriate to the genre.

*Type your message here about the Victorian activities you did.
Make sure you have used conjunctions and adjectives.
Remember to end with from and then your name.*

Dear Mrs Dhaliwal,

I have just visited the Bournemouth beach which is about more than two hours of drive from my house. I changed my clothes in a bathing machines. I swam in the sea, I built huge sandcastles and I played with my colourful beach ball. I watched an interesting puppet show which was quite funny. I also enjoyed delicious strawberry ice cream. We walked on the pier but had to pay money for that. It was so much fun playing beach ball with my family.

What a fantastic postcard. You have clearly understood what activities the Victorians did, well done.

Dear Mrs Dhaliwal,

I have just visited Blackpool, it is a sunny beach where i went sea-bathing. My father and i changed into our bathing costumes and went into the sea. After that, we went to have ice-cream which was very cold and tasty. We also built a beautiful sandcastle with my big brother. Before we left, we also watched a puppet show on the pier with lots of other people.

Yours Sincerely,

Vyan

Year 3 have been studying the writing genre of adventure stories. This week they had the opportunity to write their own creative, imaginative adventures using fantastic, exciting vocabulary and punctuation. Saihaj impressed Miss Chiarh with her inventive tale and her inclusion of all of the required features.

Once lived a girl named Dorothy she was 8 years old. She wore a red jumper knitted by her grandmother . She had blue chrome eyes white shoes with blue spots . Her hair is light brown with some golden stripes . she was kind whenever someone needed help she was there . But her life was not as she dreamed. She never got to spend time with her family , whenever she asked something they would ignore it. She always sat in her bed because her parents did not play with her. She always tried to make friends but everyone refused . So she was determined to make some friends . So she got her magical chalk and her rucsac and drew a door . You may think she drew the door for no reason but it is magical . whatever you draw becomes real . She opened the door very slowly . Dorothy could not believe her eyes . The door opened to a magical forest . It had humongous trees and light green grass . The trees were full of delicious fruit ready to eat . a huge range of plants growing , especially vegetables . there were a variety of different flowers . " this place is amazing!" exclaimed Dorothy there was even an aqua coloured lake. But to see what was on the other side she needed a boat . So she drew herself a boat with her chalk. The boat took her across the peaceful lake . On the other side was a really small castle the guard saw her . "Hello there ," the guards said politely . Dorothy waved . At the end of the castle was a waterfall . Dorothy stopped the boat and drew a hot air balloon. She yelled " Bye bye !" to the guards " Bye bye!" replied the guards. Dorothy started to float .

3SB

In Geography 3SB learnt about how we can prepare for volcanic eruptions, continuing their study of natural disasters. Tegbir and Tanushka thought carefully about preventative methods humans could employ in order to survive such an event and conveyed this key knowledge skilfully on their information posters.

VOLCANO ERUPTION SAFETY

Prepare an emergency disaster kit

DO NOT go near the volcano

Breathe through a damp cloth

Make sure you listen to safety advice on the radio

The children also had the chance to combine their Art and Maths skills in order to create a piece of art using a range of polygon shapes. Here is a wonderful example from Nihal.

Year 5 have been working hard all year to learn some advanced words and spellings. This week, in order to challenge themselves they had to use their spellings in a news report whilst also remembering to link it to current events. Miss Soor wanted to share Manjeevan's report as he managed to include all of his spelling words as well as relevant facts, phrases typical of such a text and other fun features. Well done Manjeevan!

Hello and welcome back to Sky news where today I will be reading the papers so sit back and relax while you take the daily papers and read the attached headlines so sit back and relax. Now the available papers this night are: the Daily Mail, Evening Standard and the Metro.

The headline on the Daily Mail today is do animals have the ability to use their conscience in difficult scenarios? Are they conscious of where they are when in unnatural places? Oh sorry that was the pet page but on the headline-have Costa coffee provided safety measures for the convenience of their customers? To correspond with your answer, call 44 20 79386000. Please do not embarrass Costa coffee in your answer, as last time, we had insults to Dav's Fluffy the dog.

The next headline-should we equip ourselves with protective gear outside every time when we go shopping? Should we be equipped with our own protective gear? And if so would we be given the right equipment? Please answer on the BBC news website to answer and please Mr Gilligan stop saying we should-you are becoming a nuisance.

Now onto the next one-there are hundreds of people who have a profession but don't get enough money. But we are giving you the chance to become the secretary of prime minister of Wales. Our sincere apologies if it does not let you apply. Wait a second, this a fraud-we need the police to do a thorough investigation on this! But anyway that is all we have time for today. Bye!

In Art the children were tasked with using aspects of nature in their work by doing leaf printing. Prableen has created a beautiful example, using bright colours and range of leaf shapes and patterns to influence her work.
